

U.S. ARMY WELLNESS CENTER PROJECT

CME Corp's Government Sales, Purchasing, Warehouse, and Direct to Site Delivery Teams worked together to quote, procure, and deliver nearly 60,000 pieces of equipment to 43 Army brigades on 10 bases in record time.

THE PROJECT

CUSTOMER CHALLENGES

Compressed Timeline – all products needed to be received within two weeks.

All items had to be delivered to the 43 brigades within a month after receiving all the items.

Many of the brigades were located in remote areas, some with unpaved roads. Most brigades were lacking needed delivery equipment.

 CME's 9 warehouse teams received ~60,000 items. All were inspected for damage, sorted, and kitted by brigade, as well as labeled with a specific JSN number prior to delivery. POs to manufacturers were closely tracked to meet timelines.

 CME reconciled all damage/discrepancies and mitigated back orders quickly prior to delivery. CME consolidated items into 785 pallets and loaded 43 tractor trailers and bobcats. Manpower was supplemented from other areas.

 CME demonstrated the utmost flexibility throughout this project. We packed needed tools on all trucks and did what we had to do to make all deliveries as efficient as possible.

"Because they excel at procuring, transportation, assembling, and managing the aggregation of hundreds of lines of products at military bases throughout the country, we appreciate having such an exceptional medical equipment distributor as CME."
